Last night we had a chance to listen to Dr. Alveda King (niece of Dr. MLK Jr) speak at the Bakersfield Pregnancy Center Banquet Dinner. She sounded like and reminded me of my grandmother. And she had the whole room singing the refrain from a couple hymns.

Glad we happened to see her before we left and get a pic. So glad God has placed her right where she is and being an advocate for life—from the womb to the tomb—across party lines & cultural contexts. I love seeing godly black women get a seat at the table, and in her case, a seat at the current POTUS' table too. — with Morgan Davis.

Church looks to turn up anti-abortion pressure on Cuthbert-Flynn

Livern Barrett/ Senior Staff Reporter

LOCAL CHURCH leaders, buoyed by offers of assistance from pro-life groups in the United States (US), are seeking to convince Jamaican lawmaker Juliet Cuthbert-Flynn to withdraw a controversial motion that seeks to legalise abortion.

With Dr Alveda King, niece of famed American civil rights leader Dr Martin Luther King, in the island to offer support, Jamaica CAUSE, the multi-denominational group pushing back against the motion, revealed yesterday that it has sought to hold talks with Cuthbert-Flynn on the contentious issue.

"She has been entertaining our dialogue so far, and we will continue to do that until we get her to withdraw the motion," president of Jamaica CAUSE, Bishop Dr Alvin Bailey, told The Gleaner yesterday.

NO BACKING DOWN

However, Cuthbert-Flynn, the member of parliament for St Andrew West Rural, has signalled that she has no intention of backing away from the motion, which is now before a parliamentary committee.

"This is something I would have thought about thoroughly before bringing such a motion – a controversial motion – to Parliament. So it is not something that I intend to withdraw just because a particular group wants me to withdraw," she said.

"This is something I plan to carry to the end," the first-time lawmaker insisted.

"There are people out there who I am representing and who I'm speaking up for and I, also, am of the belief that women should have a right to choose depending upon their circumstances," she added.

Her motion seeks to repeal Sections 72 and 73 of the Offences Against the Person Act, which makes abortion a criminal offence.

Janet Morana, executive director of the US-based anti-abortion group Priests for Life, suggested that one way to convince Jamaican legislators not to approve the controversial motion was for more churches to open up pregnancy centres.

Morana, who, along with King, addressed a breakfast meeting of local church leaders at The Jamaica Pegasus hotel in St Andrew yesterday, indicated that she would bring other groups, such as Heartbeat International, to Jamaica to help establish more pregnancy centres.

"This will take care of Parliament that says, 'What are we going to do with these babies?', 'How are we going to help these mothers?' We need the Church to stand up and say, 'We will help these women,' she said.

Thank You!

Ma'am (Alveda)- Thank You so very much for your participation in Georgia Military College's commencement ceremony this morning. You moved us all, very deeply, with your inspired spiritual message. Exactly what our graduates needed to hear to prepare them for their life journey ahead. And the historic literature you referenced and read from was remarkably powerful and historic. I am honored to have met you. I felt God's presence from the moment I hugged you in the parking lot. You are a blessing to our nation and to our world. Thank You, again, Ma'am, for the blessing you gave us all. In Him, General Rock Donahue.

"A majority, perhaps as many as 75% of abortion clinics are in areas with high minority populations. Abortion apologists will say this is because they want to serve the poor. But you don't serve the poor by taking their money to terminate their children."

400 YEARS
OF AFRICAN AMERICAN HISTORY COMMISSION

May 25, 2019

President Donald J. Trump
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. Trump:

On January 8, 2018, Public Law 115-102 was signed into law by you to authorize the appointment of a 400 Years of African American History Commission (400 YAAHC).

On June 12, 2019, the 400 YAAHC will host its inaugural public launch at the United States Capitol, 9:00am – Noon in the Congressional Auditorium. This event is made possible by the generous support of the Nick Cannon Foundation. Mr. Cannon serves as our first national ambassador and will serve as celebrity host for the event.

We would be extremely honored to share your recorded remarks in support of our work as part of this significant milestone which commemorates 400 years of tragedy and triumph of Africans since arrival in the English colonies of America. We have designated ten (10) minutes in which the presentation would be shared. Our Congressional host is Senator Mark Warner of Virginia. Our audience of approximately 450 attendees will include members of the 400 YAAHC, special guests among which will be Dr. Bernice A. King, students, educators, historic icons, and others of the general and federal public,

Joining us in offering her support for this request and to the Commission's work is Dr. Alveda C. King.

Your consideration and acceptance of this invitation would be very meaningful to us. We hope you will give it favor among your many priorities.

With grateful respect,

Dr. Joseph L. Green Jr.
Chairman

The Idea: Purpose

Purpose is the top, the center, the peak, the summit and the highest point of life, family and occupation. Without purpose, we are all just robots doing our tasks to make a wage. Purpose is the energy, motivation and wind in our sails. When a person has a purpose, they can inspire purpose in others. When a community has a purpose, they can love and serve each other well. That community will build other purposeful communities. When a company has a purpose, they can build towards the meaning that is greater than just simply money. That company will challenge other companies to treat their people the way they deserve and serve their community and world better. When the world discovers its purpose, we will find peace and prosperity for all.

Purpose is the end goal for every person, community and company. The question is: will the pioneers stand up, shout out and spearhead the answer to the lack of purpose epidemic that only has surface solutions, empty answers and hollow ambitions? This book is the attempt to help individuals, communities and companies build purpose into their DNA. We will not let down or give up until we see our world promote this idea: purpose.

Driven by purpose, Daniel Budzinski is a passionate pioneer for a better way. To re-think and empower are the driving passions in his life. He graduated with his accounting degree, realized it was not what he really wanted to do, and launched head first into a company he started in his junior year of college. Daniel found himself on a five-year journey of purpose. Now, with over 850 public speaking engagements to well over 250,000 people under his belt, Daniel has visited 26 of the 50 states and over 30 countries in just a few years. He loves to travel the world. He is most passionate about his wife, children and family. He has spoken in venues with up to 30,000 people in attendance, has counseled major corporations, and has spoken at countless events with investors, doctors, leaders, government officials and world influencers. He has a passion to help companies and people build a plan and execute it to live out their dreams and purpose. His life motto is to help people find their purpose.
